The Problem Every Australian School Is Facing

Australian teachers are among the most skilled professionals in the country. They are also among the most overworked.

Research consistently shows teachers spend more than half their working week on tasks that are not direct teaching — planning, marking, differentiation, report writing, and administration.

The tools to help already exist in most schools. What is missing is the expertise layer that makes them useful for teaching.

say AI is changing how they teach

The missing piece is not AI — it is the curriculum-specific prompt system that tells AI what to do with your syllabus, your scope and sequence, your students, and your school's assessment expectations. That is exactly what PedagogyPro provides.

Five Reasons to Bring PedagogyPro to Your School

01	Every teacher gets access — not just the early adopters One licence covers your entire staff with no per-teacher fees and no tiered access. Everyone saves time from day one.
02	Works with the AI tools your school already pays for Claude, ChatGPT, Microsoft Copilot, or Google Gemini. No new software, no IT integration, no change management project.
03	5+ hours saved per teacher per week — from day one Lesson planning, differentiation, assessment design, report writing, and parent communication — all done in minutes, not hours.
04	AITSL-aligned professional learning documentation included Every participating staff member receives evidence of professional learning suitable for their teaching portfolio and AITSL accreditation records.
05	Invoice and purchase order accepted A properly structured tax invoice with ABN and GST. Purchase orders accepted. Finance-team friendly from day one.

Everything Your School Needs — All in One Licence

One annual investment gives every teacher on your staff access to the complete prompt library, professional development, AITSL documentation, and ongoing support — from day one.

Frequently Asked Questions

Does this work with our existing AI tools?

Yes. PedagogyPro prompts work with Claude, ChatGPT, Microsoft Copilot, and Google Gemini. No new platform. No IT integration.

If your school already pays for an AI tool, PedagogyPro makes it significantly more useful for every teacher.

Do teachers need AI experience?

No. If a teacher can attach a file to an email, they can use PedagogyPro. Every prompt has clear [BRACKETED PLACEHOLDERS].

The PD workshop walks all staff through the system in two hours.

Is this AITSL-aligned?

Yes. PedagogyPro is developed in accordance with AITSL Australian Professional Standards for Teachers.

School licence holders receive professional learning documentation for each participating staff member.

How quickly can we get started?

Immediately. Once your invoice is processed, your PD coordinator receives access credentials for all staff.

The PD workshop is scheduled within 30 days. Most schools have teachers using the library within the first week.

What if staff do not engage with it?

The included PD workshop is specifically designed to prevent this. We walk every staff member through a hands-on session.

Schools that complete the workshop consistently report strong uptake across all departments.
